Convention 2010

I attended the 49th National Convention in Atlanta, Georgia this past June and shared a wonderful weekend with roughly 1600 other Leaguers from around the United States. It was a five day convention absolutely packed with wonderful speakers (such as US Representative John Lewis and Health and Human Services Secretary Kathleen Sebelius) plenary sessions, caucuses, workshops and several networking opportunities. I met wonderful people from Utah, Minnesota, and Tennessee and became more acquainted with more of our fellow Californians. In addition to attending all the plenary sessions, I attended caucuses on National Popular Vote and Healthcare for All as well as workshops on Civil Discussions in Uncivil Times, Redistricting, and Immigration Reform to name a few. There was so much to choose from that there is no way one person could do it all.

The League also presented its annual scholarships to two highly qualified Glendale Community College students: Nina Aguilar and Deveron Shudic.

Nina Aguilar is a graduate of Immaculate Heart High School. She currently attends Glendale Community College, and she plans to transfer to a 4 year university, where she will major in history and pursue a career in education. In addition to her studies, she works part time at Saint Finbar Elementary School. Nina is in the top 5% academically, with a GPA of 3.91.

Deveron Shudic is a re-entry student who plans to graduate from GCC, then transfer to a 4 year University to pursue a career as a teacher. Deveron describes herself as "an example of the little train that could. I have never given up on my dream of an education. I place a high value on education and I want to bring my passion and enthusiasm for learning to others. She has worked in the Music Department and tutored at the learning center since she returned to GCC in 2007. A community activist, she has worked to keep her community safe and overbuilding under control. In 2005, she was awarded a Certificate of Appreciation for outstanding community service from the Pasadena-Foothills Association of Realtors.

Our speaker, Jason Wells, Managing Editor of the Glendale NewsPress, gave an enlightening speech on the state of our local newspapers.

Finally, we adopted a Program for next year:

- Voter Service – continue to expand Speaker's Bureau to all year using a variety of topics;
- Membership Recruitment – actively recruiting members;
- Citizen Education – hold public forums'
  - September 2010 – Public Forum on elected vs. appointed city treasurer
  - Upcoming – Parcel Tax, if on the ballot in either (or both) Glendale and Burbank;
- Advocacy – continue advocacy on Campaign Finance and Ethics Reform in both cities.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS OF THE UNITED STATES

CONVENTION RECAP

WASHINGTON, DC - The League of Women Voters of the United States (LWVUS) celebrated its 90th anniversary at its 49th biennial national convention late June in Atlanta, Georgia. The four-day gathering gave League members from around the country the opportunity to celebrate the organization's accomplishments over the last 90 years on health care reform, election reform and judicial independence, and to discuss important public policy issues.

Elisabeth MacNamara of Dekalb County, Georgia was elected unanimously by the more than 600 delegates gathered at the Marriott Atlanta Marquis. MacNamara, elected to serve a two-year term, will be the national organization's 18th president.

In her acceptance speech, MacNamara thanked members for entrusting her with the leadership of this 90-year-old organization. "I am excited and delighted to lead the League of Women Voters of the United States to new heights," MacNamara said. "The League and its 150,000 grassroots members and supporters will continue to raise our voices in the fight for climate change reform, campaign finance reform, voter education and election reform. Let's go out there and get in the way!" MacNamara urged.

Earlier that morning, Secretary of Health and Human Services Kathleen Sebelius addressed convention delegates on the role of women in American politics, outlined key elements of the new health care legislation and reaffirmed the Administration's strong commitment to expanding voter registration opportunities. During the opening session, Representative John Lewis congratulated delegates on their 90th anniversary and urged them to continue their hard work in communities nationwide strengthening civil rights and democratic principles.

A League member since 1983, MacNamara ascended to the presidency of the Georgia League in 2001 and served in this capacity until 2006. MacNamara was elected to a two-year term on the LWVUS national Board as a director in 2006 and was also the organization's first vice president until 2010.

"This Convention proved that the League remains a vibrant, grassroots organization as it has for the last 90 years," stated MacNamara. "We debated many of the critical issues facing citizens across the nation, including election reform, climate change, the need for redistricting reform, and health care reform," MacNamara said.

Delegates set the LWVUS program agenda for the next two years, voting to study the federal role in public education and privatization of government functions.

Here are the Program and Motions adopted by the Convention:

NATIONAL PROGRAM FOR THE 2010-2012 BIENNIUM

Motion to adopt the LWVUS Board recommended study of the Federal Role in Public Education. The study would focus on the role of the federal government in education policymaking, with possible consideration of funding, common standards and/or governance relationships among all levels of the government. This strengthening should include elimination from national legislation of the exemptions for drilling and mining, as well as additional legislation requiring the federal agencies to regulate drilling and mining in a manner consistent with the preservation of a healthy environment. Motion to amend the resolution proposed in motion 448-462 relating to the oil disaster in the Gulf of Mexico to add: "The LWWUS further urges the legislative and executive branches of the federal government to immediately take all necessary steps to maximize to the extent practicable the ability and efforts of all relevant federal agencies and departments to take action, and to work with the U.S. coastal states and communities most directly and immediately affected, to respond creatively, efficiently and effectively to the environmental, health and economic crisis created by the oil flowing from the out of control BP oil well in the Gulf of Mexico and by the efforts to contain and disperse it."

Motion #941-312, LWV of Alabama.
Motion APPROVED.

I felt a part of something that because of its deep and enduring history continues to attract people with purpose who work to stay engaged with the democratic process.

Our League shared a wares table with the Kern County League and the Los Angeles ILO in the marketplace. Although we only made a little money on the sale of our Note Cards, it was a good opportunity to network and to learn how to market our products for the next opportunity.

Overall, I want to say I was in awe of the energy of the National Convention and feel so fortunate to have been there and experience the League working in full swing. Being there, in Atlanta, with hundreds of other Leaguers, I felt a part of something that because of its deep and enduring history continues to attract people with purpose who work to stay engaged with the democratic process. The energy, discussions and ideas were flowing and some of the Conventions efforts can be captured in the National Program and Resolutions list that was passed on Monday's sessions of the convention. Please take a moment to read over the list.

The League of Women Voters, a nonpartisan political organization, encourages informed and active participation in government, works to increase understanding of major public policy issues, and influences public policy through education advocacy.

The League never supports or opposes any political party or candidate. We advocate only on issues that members have studied and come to a consensus on. In an era of proliferating and powerful special interests, the League's advocacy in the public interest is increasingly recognized as an essential voice of democracy.
